CATALOGUE BY WILLIAM H. STROBRIDGE.

April, 1875.

INTRODUCTION.

It is hardly necessary to say that this is a Catalogue of more than a single collection.

As one, whatever credit it might deserve on the ground of variety, it would lose on that of incongruity; but this is an objection without much force against a catalogue of miscellaneous articles offered for public sale.

That there are several owners in the case, may explain why the catalogue is divided into so many parts and addendas; also why coins of the same class are not sold under one head.

Part I. is composed wholly and exclusively of the collection of Mr. Joseph E. Gay, of New York; and the other gentlemen interested in the sale, will, I am sure, cordially concede that it richly deserves the distinction of being placed at the head. Among the Scotch and English pieces in this collection, are some that will hardly be looked for in a catalogue so unexpected as this will be, and from a cabinet so quietly formed and little known.

In the addendum to Part I., and in Part II. of the Catalogue, many fine coins and medals, both American and foreign, will be found, and collectors will do well to examine this department of the Catalogue with care.

Part III. consists almost wholly of ancient and modern gems, antiquities from Egypt, Bric-a-Brac, and minerals. There are also many good coins in this division, as well as in the addenda to Part II. This will be the last, and by no means the least interesting and important day of the sale. Among the gems are several fine stones; the minerals came from a good collection, and are fit to go into good collections again; the antiquities from Egypt are authentic and valuable. I do not know that we are at liberty to state publicly the facts respecting them, but the writer can do so with propriety in a private way, and besides, exhibit other objects of great value and quite unique, from the same source.

CATALOGUE.

PART I.

EARLY ENGLISH.

1 Togodumus, King in Britain 100 years B. C.; gold stater; fine and rare.

See Humphrey's Coinage of the British Empire. Pl. 17. No. 4.

2 Drachma, horse, under him a wheel, VOL; rev. ear of barley; very fine and rare; silver.

3 Hemi-Drachm, same type without ins.; fine and rare.

4 Copper Coin, rude head of Apollo, hair in rolls; rev. horse equally rude (Humphrey, etc., Pl. I, No. 4).

Size 14

5 Tin, bull's head front; rev. bear; same period as last; well preserved and very rare.

6 Skeattæ of the Heptarchy, rude attempt at a head within a ring of anulets; rev. rude figure (bird?) and letters; silver; rare.

7 —— Rude head; rev. within a dotted square an anulet (ring) with a dot in centre (H., Pl. II, No. 4); very fine and rare.

8 —— Others, thin silver coin. 2 pieces.

9 Stycae of Eanred, King of Northumberland A.D. 808.

10 —— of Ethelred do do A.D. 840 (small copper).

11 Penny of Coenwulf, King of Mercia A.D. 796; diademed head, front face; rev. AMENITA S DEI; fine and extremely rare.

12 —— of Burgred (Mercia), A.D. 852, BVRGRED REX; rev. in three lines, MON + DVDDA, ETA; large size, showing a great improvement in style and execution; as fine as when struck, and very rare.

13 PENNY of Eadmund, King of the East Angles, 885, head crowned; rev. long cross; base.

14 —— of St. Edmund (same time); obv. A, in a circle of dots, SCEAMVN REX; rev. short cross, CREALT MONI; very fine and rare. (Humphrey, Pl. III., 25.)

15 —— of Athelstan, 924–940; EDELSTAN REX TO BRIT; rev. short cross, REGNALD MO EBORIVC (York); broad and fine; very rare.

16 —— Ethelred II., 978; head in profile to left, EDELRED REX; rev. short cross, CHAM O LEERVIC; fine and rare.

17 —— Canute, A.D. 1016, head in profile, CNVT REX ANGLORVM; rev. long cross and tressure, LEFFEL MO NOR; as it came from the die; rare.

18 —— Edward the Confessor, 1040–1042 (he was son of Ethlred); obv. helmeted head in profile to l. and sceptre, EDPADE REX; rev. double cross, square in centre, pellets in the angles; extremely fine and rare.

19 —— Another equally desirable penny of the Confessor, same type; slightly different.

20 —— Harold II., 1066, crowned head in profile and sceptre; rev. across the coin PAX; (see Humphrey, Pl. III., No. 25); extremely fine and rare.

Harold was cotemporary with William of Normandy, "The Conqueror," consequently his coins close the Anglo-Saxon series.

ANGLO-NORMAN.

21 WILLIAM I., 1066–1087; full face penny with crown and sceptre; rev. PAXS in the angles of a cross; as it came from the die; rare.

22 —— Another, same type; equally fine.

23 WILLIAM II. (Rufus), 1087–1100; full face penny, on each side of head a *; rev. voided cross, and quartering it two sceptres crossed; rare type and extremely fine.

This particular penny long ago cost £1 5s.; it was from the collection of Mr. Turnbul, of Philadelphia.

24 HENRY I., 1100–1135; misstruck penny, still fine; rude head in profile, inscription; rev. ornate cross and lilies; very rare.

Probably struck in Aquitaine.

25 —— Another Penny of Henry I.; head crowned, ¾ face; rev. cross, in each angle a short cross with crosslets; only fair specimen, but it cost 10s. sterling; (from the collection already referred to).

26 HENRY II., 1154–1189; full face, head fleurie and sceptre; rev. short double cross, crosses in angles; brilliant.

27 —— Duplicate, equally fine.

28 RICHARD I., 1189–1199, as Duke of Aquitaine, with his title as King of England, RICHARDVS REX; rev. PIC TAVIE NSIS; uncommonly fine and very rare penny.

29 JOHN, 1199–1216; head in a triangle, IOHANNES REX; rev. crescent and stars in a triangle, ROBERT ON DIVAE; very fine and rare penny.

James Simon and Henry Noel Humphreys both give us an account of the triangle on this coin, but they do not agree. Simon says he finds heads similarly inclosed on the coins of Biorno, King of Sweden, A.D. 818, and on several of the Kings of France from 893 to 1322; he mentions as examples, coins of Charles the Simple, Philip the Fair, and Charles the Fair; therefore, he concludes that as the King's head was inclosed in a circle on English money, for distinction he would be represented in a triangle on his Irish coins, particularly as they were now for the first time of the same weight and standard. Simon believes that the harp, which at a later period became the chief symbol of Ireland, was suggested by and proceeded from the triangle, as it was unknown on any coin of that or a former period, now extant.

Mr. Humphreys says without hesitation, "The triangle found on these coins is supposed to be a symbol of the Trinity—the ancient arms of Trinity Priory in Ipswich being represented in a similar manner." The triangle was continued on the Irish coins of Henry III. and Edward I., II., and III., when it disappears.

30 —— Half-penny, full face in a circle, JOHANNES DO +; rev. short cross, an anulet in each quarter; struck in England; extra fine and rare.

See note in the Groux Catalogue following No. 140.

31 HENRY III., 1216–1272; obv. same as Henry II.; rev. long double cross; fine penny.

32 —— Half-penny, same type; rare.

33 —— Irish penny; head in a triangle, HENRICVS REX. III.; rev. long cross, three pellets in each quarter; struck at Dublin; fine and rare.

34 EDWARD I., 1273–1307; Penny (known positively), the legend, EDWR ANGL DNS. HYB.; rev. long cross; fair.

35 —— Irish penny, head in a triangle; rev. long cross and pellets; CIVITAS DVBLINIE; extremely fine; rare type.

36 —— Same; struck at Waterford; very rare.

37 EDWARD II., 1307–1327; fine broad penny, EDWARRANG DNS. HYB.; struck at Canterbury; scarce.

38 —— Same; struck at London; scarce.

39 EDWARD III., 1327–1377; London penny; good.

40 —— Groat; struck at London; extra fine.

41 EDWARD, The Black Prince, son of Edward III.; Penny of Aquitaine; Lion or Leopard, ŒDVVARDIVS; rev. cross; very rare.

Not verified and possibly erroneous.

42 RICHARD II., 1377–1399; Groat; struck at London; very rare, fine.

43 —— Penny; good and very rare.

44 HENRY IV., 1399–1413; Penny; struck at London; fine.

45 —— Gold Noble; the king in a ship; rev., a cross fleurie and lions crowned; IHS AVTEM TRANSIENS P MEDIVM ILLORVM IBAT; a very beautiful uncirculated coin; very rare.

Celebrated in its day as the finest gold coin in Europe.

46 —— Quarter Noble; very fine and equally rare.

47 HENRY V., 1413–1422; penny; very fine.

48 —— Duplicates; equally fine. 2 pieces

49 —— Groat; VILLA CALISIE; struck at Calais; fine and rare.

50 —— Double Groat; good example; rare.

51 —— Groat; struck at London; very fine.

52 HENRY VI., 1422–1461; Calais Groat; extremely fine.

53 —— Uncirculated Double-Groat; rare.

8854 —— Groat and Half-Groat. 2 pieces

8855 —— Calais Half-Groat; fine. 2 piece

8856 EDWARD IV., 1461–1483; Lincoln penny; extremely fine and rare.

57 —— London Groat; extra fine.

58 —— Duplicate; equally fine.

59 —— Groat and Pennies. 3 pieces

60 —— Irish Groat; struck at Waterford; light, but of fine silver; extra fine and rare.

ENGLISH SOVEREIGNS TO THE UNION.

61 HENRY VII., 1483–1509; Groat; struck at London; the crown for the first time arched; uncirculated and beautiful example; rare.

62 —— Duplicate; very fine.

63 —— New coinage; head in profile; rev. shield quartered by a cross, M. M. 2 keys under the shield, which appears for the first time on an English coin; extra fine and rare half-groat.

64 —— Groat, struck for Ireland; obv. arms of England; rev. arms of Ireland, three crowns (see Humphrey, page 96); good, very rare.

65 HENRY VIII., 1509–1547; Groat and Half-Groat. 2 pieces

66 —— Half-Groats; variety. 2 pieces

67 —— Third coinage; head, three-quarter face; rev. arms quartered by a cross; groat, half-groat, and penny; very rare. 3 pieces

68 —— Fifth coinage; head, full face; rev. full-blown rose; base; very rare shilling, rubbed.

69 —— Irish Groat; obv. arms of England; rev. harp and J crowned, A crowned, and K crowned (for several of his wives); good set of 3 pieces.

70 —— English base Groat.

71 EDWARD VI., 1547–1553; Testoon (shilling); bust crowned, three-quarter face; to r. XII., to l. rose; rev. coat-of-arms quartered by a cross; very fine, scarce.

72 —— Same; fine, field burnished.

73 —— Shilling and half Shilling. 2 pieces

74 —— Crown, 1551; obv. the King on horseback; rev. coat-of-arms, M. M. ton; coined in the Tower.

A good example of a rare crown, which, besides being the earliest struck in England, is the first English coin with a date.

75 MARY and Mary and Philip, 1552–1558; Groat of Mary alone; young bust crowned; rev. coat-of-arms; fine and very rare.

76 —— Duplicate; poor.

77 —— Shilling of Mary and Philip, their busts vis-a-vis; above, crown; rev. arms on oval shield; above, XII. and crown; in very good condition and rare.

78 —— Base Irish Shilling of same; below bust date (1555); rev. harp; not much circulated, scarce.

79 ELIZABETH, 1558–1602; Shilling, Sixpence, Threepence, Twopence, and Three-farthings; very fine set of her hammered money. 5 pieces

80 —— Milled Shilling; the edge grained, the inner circle taken away; very fine and rare.

81 —— Milled Sixpence; extremely fine, rare.

82 —— Shilling, Sixpence, and Threepence; hammered coins; fine. 3 pieces

83 —— Six-pence and Threepence; same. 2 pieces

84 —— Six-pences and Twopence pierced. 4 pieces

85 —— Crown; bust crowned, with orb and sceptre (this is the first time the sceptre appears since Henry III.), legend, POSVI DEVM ADIVTOREM MEVM; very fine, highly desirable and valuable.

86 —— Gold Angel (23½ carat fine); arms on a ship; rev. St. Michael and Dragon; a fine coin, only bent, could be easily straightened; very rare. Size 20

87 —— Irish Shilling of fine silver; rev. 3 harps on shield crowned; rare.

88 —— Irish Groats with and without bust; base. 3 pieces

COINS OF SCOTLAND BEFORE THE UNION.

89 William I., 1165–1214; Penny; side face and sceptre; rev. cross with crescents in the angles; extremely fine, and undoubtedly a coin of William the Lion; extremely rare.

90 Alexander II., A.D. 1214; fine Penny; crowned head to l., before face, sceptre; rev. double cross, in each angle a star; rare.

91 Alexander III., A.D. 1249; similar obv.; on rev. long cross, etc.; very fine.

92 —— Half-penny; same type; very rare.

93 John (Baliol), A.D. 1292–1306; Penny; also half-faced with crown and sceptre; JOHANNES DEI GRA; rev. REX SCOTORVM, cross with the stars as before; fine and extremely rare.

94 David II., 1329–1371; Penny; executed exactly in the style of his predecessors; DAVID REX, etc.; uncirculated, rare.

95 —— Half-groat; crowned and side-faced head of the King with sceptre erect, DAVID DEI GRATIA REX SCOTORVM; rev. DNS PROTECTOR, MS., & LIBERATOR MS on outer circle, and VILLA EDINBVRGH on an inner, all divided by a cross; extremely fine and rare.

96 —— Groat; exactly the same and apparently uncirculated; rare.

He was the first in Scotland who coined groats and half-groats.

97 Robert II., 1371–1390; groat like that of David II., except ROBERTVS, etc.; fine, rare.

98 Robert III., 1390–1406; groat; the King's head, full face and crown without the sceptre. [The tressure around the head on this, as also on English groats of the period, was designed to represent a rose.] Rev. three globules in each quarter of a cross; beautiful and rare.

99 James I., 1406–1437; light groat (1 dr. 9 grs.); bust full face, with crown and sceptre; rev. in the quarters of a cross, two fleurs de lis and twice three little balls, an inner circle bearing VILLA EDINBVRGH, and on outer DNS PROTECTOR MS, etc.; in good preservation, and very rare.

100 James II., 1437–1460; groat (ordered by act of Parliament to pass for 14 pennies;) his head, full face and crown without sceptre; rev. crowns and balls in the angles of a cross; weight 2 dr. 8 grs.; fine and very rare.

101 —— Another, largely debased; very rare.

102 James III., 1460–1488; billon coin called at the time, "Black penny," now rare.

It was in this reign that Parliament ordained that, "For the ease and sustentation of the King's Lieges and almous deede to be done to puir folk, there be cunzied copper money, four to the penny, havand on the ane part, the croce of S. Andrew and th' crown on th' other part, with subscription of EDINBVRGH on the ane part, and ane R with James on the other part." These are the same pieces that in the reign of James VI. got the name of "Atchesons," from a coiner of money by that name.

103 James IV., 1488–1513; Black Penny.

104 —— Groat of fine silver; open face with crown; JACOBVS DEV GRA REX SCOTORVM; rev. hexagonal mullets and three balls, repeated in the angles of the cross; inner and outer circle with inscriptions; extremely rare, fine.

105 James V., 1513–1542; billon plack and half plack; on one side a thistle, on the other, St. Andrew's cross; very fine. 2 pieces

106 Mary, 1542–1587; billon plack; uncirculated, rare.

107 —— New billon coin; lion on the Scotch shield; rev. cross open in the centre with a small cross therein, crown in the angles; uncirculated.

108 —— Testoon of the exact value of the English shilling, its current value 5 shillings Scotch, 1558; obv. the Scotch shield supported by the letters M and R; MARIA DEI G SCOTOR REGINA; rev. large cross, with a small cross in each quarter; TN VIRTVTE TVA LIBERA MEA; strictly uncirculated, rare.

109 —— Silver crown of an ounce weight; obv. the shield of Scotland crowned and supported by two thistles;

MARIA DEI GRA SCOTORVM REGINA; rev. a Palm tree crowned; the motto "Dat Gloria vires," hanging on it; 15–67 (after her second husband's death); the legend circumscribed upon this beautiful coin is EXVRGAT DEVS DISSIPENTR INIMICI EJVS; uncirculated, ex. rare.

William Nicholson, Arch-Deacon of Carlisle, in his "Scottish Historical Library," published in 1702, in the course of a short account of the medals and coins of Scotland, makes the following observation: "Some call the tree on the reverse, an Yew Tree, and report that there grew a famous one of that kind in the Park (or Garden) of the Earl of Lenox, which gave occasion to the impress."

110 Mary, with Henry Darnley; their coin of two-thirds of an ounce of the same type, the title being MARIA & HENRIC, etc.; a thistle counterstamped on rev.; 1586; very fine and rare.

This piece went for twenty shillings Scotch, the large one going for thirty shillings; there were also 10 and 5 shilling pieces with the same impression.

111 —— Gold Lion; obv. Scotch shield crowned, J-G supporting; MARIA DEI GRA R SCOTORVMT; rev. cypher of her name crowned, DILIGITE IVSTICIAM 1553; uncirculated, brilliant, extra rare. [Now valued at £5.]

112 James VI., 1587–1625; XXX piece of an ounce weight; obv. shield of Scotland crowned, supported by the letters J R, both crowned; rev. a sword upright with a crown on its point, date 1570; legend "Pro me Si mereor in me;" very fine and rare crown.

Nicholson says, "This motto was borrowed from Trajan, whose saying it was on the delivery of the Praetors sword; George Buchanan was James' tutor and probably suggested it."

113 —— Mark, 1573; obv. Scottish shield crowned; rev. cross with thistles and crowns in alternate quarters; SALVA FAC POPVLVM TVVM DNC; in excellent preservation, and very rare.

114 —— XXX shilling piece of $\frac{2}{3}$ oz. weight; obv. the young King crowned, holding a sword upright; rev.

arms crowned HONOR REGIS JVDICIVM DILICIT, 1582; extremely fine and rare.

Of these it appears there were coined pieces of 20, 10 and 5 shillings, as well the one here given.

115 JAMES VI., balance mark of 1591; Scotch arms crowned; rev. naked sword and balance, HIS DIFFERS REGE TYRANNVS; weight, 2 dwt. 14 grs; in good preservation, and rare.

116 —— Mark, with the portraiture of his Majesty's body on obverse; rev. a thistle, NEMO ME IMPVNE LACESSET, 1594; fine and very rare.

117 —— Thistle mark, half mark, quarter and eighth do. 1602; these have the Royal shield of Scotland crowned; rev. same as last, hence the name, thistle mark; a very good set (one pierced), of four rare pieces.

118 —— Gold thistle crown without date (but after the Union); on one side the rose of England crowned, on the other, the thistle of Scotland crowned; the titles round the rose, with motto on rev. "Tueatur Unita Deus;" extremely fine and rare.

119 JAMES VIII. (the Pretender), 1716; obv. laureated bust, JACOBVS VIII DEI GRATIA; rev. arms on four shields as a cross, with the cross of St. Andrew thereon; REX SCO AN FRA ET HIB; a beautiful uncirculated pattern coin, or perhaps medal of the greatest rarity. Size 20

ENGLISH SOVEREIGNS FROM JAMES I. TO VICTORIA.

120 JAMES I., 1602–1625; Shillings, different dies; good. 2 pieces

121 —— Sixpence; rev. English coat-of-arms; fine.

122 —— Same; rev. harp (Irish); very fine, rare.

123 —— Twopence, penny, and half-penny, one pierced, otherwise very desirable; rare. 3 pieces

124 —— Twopence; rose crowned and thistle crowned; fine.

125 —— Same, and penny with bust; very good, rare. 2 pieces

126 —— Twopence and penny; very good. 2 pieces

127 JAMES I., Gold unit, called also "broad piece;" obv. the King to r., crowned with orb and sceptre; rev. arms crowned, J—R; but little circulated, but pierced; rare. Size 24

128 —— Gold double-crown of 10 shillings; obv. laureated bust to left; rev. arms, and the legend, HENRICVS ROSAS REGNA JACOBVS; uncirculated, very rare.

129 CHARLES I., 1625–1649; set of coins answering to the "maunday money," struck regularly in succeeding reigns; viz.: 4d., 3d., 2d., and 1d.; fine, one slightly pierced, very rare. 4 pieces

130 —— Sixpence; rev. in three straight lines, REL PROT LEG ANG LIB PAR, 1646; extremely fine for type, rare.

131 —— Milled shilling; nearly uncirculated, very rare.

132 —— Shilling and sixpence, milled; rare, but ordinary. 2 pieces

133 —— Shilling, without inner circle, the arms on round shield; fine and rare.

134 —— Shilling, twopence, and rose penny. 3 pieces

135 —— Ormond groat (obsidional); C. R. under a crown; rev. IIII.; rare.

136 —— Newark shilling (also obsidional); lozenge shape; pierced, but fine and rare.

137 —— Half-crown; the King on horseback; rev. coat-of-arms on round shield; not well struck, but sharp; a desirable piece, rare.

138 —— Crown, same type; M. M. Bell; broad and well-preserved, though considerably circulated.

139 —— For Scotland; bust crowned; rev. thistle crowned, XL (pence); size of English sixpence, good example.

140 —— Same, XX (pence); fine.

141 —— Same, XL and XX; good. 2 pieces

142 COMMONWEALTH, 1648–1660; beautiful and perfect set, from shilling to half-penny, dated 1652: XII, VI, II, I, and ½d.; very fine and rare. 5 pieces

143 —— Duplicate penny; pierced.

144 —— Gold sovereign or XX-shilling piece, dated 1649; pierced and slightly bent, but rare and desirable.

145 CROMWELL to 1660; shilling; gilt, very good, rare.

146 —— Half-crown, 1658; laureated bust; rev. coat-of-arms crowned; his escutcheon on the arms of England, Scotland, and Ireland; motto, PAX QVÆRITVR BELLO; BRILLIANT PROOF, extremely rare.

147 —— Crown, same type; fine proof, equally rare.

148 CHARLES II., 1660–1684; 4d., 3d., 2d., and penny, from Simon's dies (crowned bust); not uncirculated, very good. 4 pieces

149 —— 4d., 3d., 2d., and penny; his cypher crowned, with laureated bust; all fine. 4 pieces

150 —— Sixpence; laureated bust to r.; rev. arms on four shields arranged as a cross, in each angle two C's interlaced; very fine.

151 —— Shilling, same type; equally fine.

152 —— Half-crown, same; very fine.

153 —— Crown, same type, 1663; very fine.

154 —— Crown, a variety of this type dated 1673; very fine.

A superb series, and probably never in circulation.

155 —— Half-crown for Scotland; arms on four shields as before, with the interlacing C's, but, on this, the place of France is filled by the arms of Scotland, repeated; in the centre, XX^{VI}; rubbed, but very rare.

156 —— Shilling and sixpence of the same type; in the centre of cross XII and VI; very fine, rare. 2 pieces

157 —— Shilling; head reversed, and in the angles of the cross a thistle; also the half-shilling; in fair preservation. 2 pieces

158 —— Bawbees and other coppers; some of Charles I., and perhaps other reigns not examined, but all with the Scotch arms; good lot. 16 pieces

159 JAMES II., 1684–1688; 4d., 3d., and 2d. of the Maunday set; rubbed. 3 pieces

160 —— Shilling, 1685; uncirculated and brilliant, very rare.

161 —— Crown, 1688; uncirculated, although the laurel wreath shows marks of the drawer—the reverse, none whatever; a splendid crown, rare.

162 JAMES II., Gold coin, without date; obv. a ship under full sail; rev. St. Michael in combat with the dragon, SOLI DEO GLORIA; pierced, about ⅓ guinea, and, I should think, rare.

163 —— Scotch shilling (10 under bust); poor.

PART III.

ANTIQUITIES.

Egyptian Bronzes (from Thebes.)

1577 Eye from a mummy case, the natural size; the socket bronze, with opaque glass ball; imperfect, yet striking example of Outa (the mystic eye).

1578 Tweezers, simple ornamentation; very fine and entirely perfect, length 3 inches.

1579 Lachrymatory, with two little rings to admit a string or bail, length about 3 inches.

(Very rare in bronze; perhaps, as Shaw suspects, used for some other purpose.)

1580 Vase, solid. anciently used as a symbol or ornament, diota pattern (two ears); extremely interesting and fine, length 3 inches.

1581 OSIRIS with tululus, flagellum and hook in complete preservation; length, 3 inches.

A careful examination of this fine little antique will reveal the mask in front of the tutulus—high winged cap.

1582 OSIRIS, represented as before; on this, however, the ornament on the tutulus is a hawk's beak and the leaf of some sacred plant (lotus ?), a more elaborate and important image; every part perfect, height 9 inches.

1583 —— The same deity with the hawk's head surmounted by a modius and bottle; the hands which are raised have held something now lost; it is suggested a branch of palm, feather, or some other symbolic object common to this representative of the great god of the world—the sun; the figure and all its parts with the exception noticed absolutely perfect; very rare and valuable, height 6 inches.

1584 ANUBIS, dog-headed god, on pedestal, broken; height 4 inches.

1585 ISIS, Consort of Osiris; a most beautiful and remarkable image of the horned Isis, or moon, in a sitting posture, the figure about 9 inches in height, on a pedestal retaining its peg and covered with hieroglyphics on four sides—not to be surpassed.

OBJECTS IN BAKED EARTH, GLASS, LEATHER, ETC.

(All obtained in Egypt in 1858.)

1586 ISIS (averrunca); green earthen covered with hieroglyphics: the goddess holding the hieralpha (sacred A.), net and hook, her head covered with the veil; a beautiful and perfect example, the characters not painted on the surface, but stamped into the soft paste before baking; height 10 inches.

1587 ISIS (Mother of the World) seated with Horus in her lap, on her head a throne, same material as last; a miniature figure about 2 inches high; perfect and beautiful, very rare.

1588 Anubis, walking; a similar miniature figure, broken and mended; very fine.

1589 Flat figures sewn into the wrappings of mummies, a group as originally (and frequently) found, supposed to represent the four seasons of the year; head of an eagle, jackal, lion, and old man—two blue and two drab color; 4 pieces.

(Same material and size.)

1590 Necklace made of hundreds of ivory rings graduated in size, so that the string looks like the asp, in the centre of the necklace two real jasper beads; length 22 inches:

1591 —— Made of glass and baked earth, beads, bugles, and charms; 35 pieces, some gilt, characteristic and valuable, sold as one lot.

1592 —— Made of colored bugles and beads, four strings and tassel; very fine.

1593 —— Similar to last, with a scarab hung as a pendant, the scarab representing a real mummied beetle, the swathings still remaining; extremely rare and valuable.

1594 Mosaics and Charm from an old temple in Upper Egypt, extra fine. 3 pieces

1595 Scarabœus, Baked Earth, half inch diameter.

1596 Charms; one, a head carved in serpentine, apparently not Egyptian work, but antique; fine lot. 6 pieces

1597 —— Similar lot, many pieces; the Eye of Horus; pieces of ivory, etc., etc.; as a lot.

1598 Lamp; Terra-Cotta, with handsome ornaments, perfect and very pretty.

1599 Vase; same material, very small.

1600 Embossed Leather, fine specimens. 2 pieces

1601 Papyrus, characteristic and beautiful specimen, with writing in the three forms, Hieratic, Enchorial and Demotic. 15 pieces

1602 —— Same. 18 do.

1603 —— Same. 18 do.

1604 Bread Fruit (product of the palm-tree), found in a mummy case.

1605 Petrified Wood, bitumen and terra cotta. 4 pieces

1606 JAR for unguent, steatite, supposed to have contained paint for the eye-brows.

1607 SILVER, copper, and ivory finger rings. 3 pieces
The first Arabic.

1608 ALABASTRON; Vase for ointment or perfumes, fully described by Visconti; very rare; height 4 inches.

1609 TURQUOISE, a parcel from Egypt.

1610 ROBE OF JUSTIFICATION, supposed to be worn in the trial after death; a fine example of the linen of Ancient Egypt, in perfect preservation, about seventeen feet long by six feet wide; very rare and valuable.
